Eyes-Up Car Games

No paper, no reading: games for when looking down feels wobbly

Looking down at a page makes some passengers feel carsick. These games need no paper and no reading; eyes stay up and out of the window. Switch to one whenever a page stops being fun.

1 COLOR HUNT

Pick a color. Everyone looks for five things that color outside. First to five picks the next color.

2 I SPY

One player says "I spy something..." and names a color or shape. Everyone else guesses what it is.

3 TWENTY QUESTIONS

Think of an animal, place or thing. Others ask up to twenty yes-or-no questions to work it out.

4 STORY CHAIN

One person starts a story with one sentence. Each player adds the next sentence in turn.

5 ANIMAL COUNT

Count the animals you see on your side of the car. Compare totals at the next stop.

6 WOULD YOU RATHER

Take turns asking silly choices, like “Would you rather fly or swim to the beach?”

7 HUM THAT TUNE

Hum a song everyone knows. The first to name it hums the next one.

8 CLOUD SHAPES

Find a cloud that looks like something else. Describe it until someone else sees it too.
