

How to Play You've Been Booed

A neighborhood game: leave a secret treat, hang a sign, pass it on

- 1

MAKE A BOO BASKET

Fill a bag, box or basket with wrapped treats or small gifts. Add a Boo note and a "We've Been Booed" sign.
- 2

DELIVER IT IN SECRET

Leave it on a neighbor's doorstep, knock or ring, and slip away before anyone sees you. Daylight or early evening is best.
- 3

THEY HANG THE SIGN

Your neighbors put the sign in a front window or on the door, so everyone knows that house has been booed.
- 4

THEY BOO TWO MORE

Each booed household makes two baskets and passes the fun to two houses without a sign.
- 5

KEEP IT GOING

Pick an end date — Halloween is traditional — and see how far the ghosts travel.

KIND AND SAFE

Wrapped treats only: Use sealed, store-wrapped treats or non-food gifts. Home-baked goods are lovely, but many families will not eat them from an unknown giver. Ask about allergies: If you do not know a family well, choose a food-free basket. Include a note saying which treats are inside. Mind the pets: Leave baskets out of reach of dogs and cats — chocolate and sugar-free gum can make pets very ill. Keep doorways clear: Do not block a door or steps, and never leave candles or anything burning. Battery lights only.

WHAT TO PRINT

This free kit: page 2 — two Boo notes (cut in half), page 3 — a "We've Been Booed" sign, page 4 — six gift tags. Print one set per basket. The Boo Basket Deluxe Kit on Bobotemp adds a host guide, notes for kids, offices and food-free homes, door hangers, labels and a tracker.

WHAT TO PUT IN A BOO BASKET

Kids	Stickers, crayons, a mini notebook, bubbles, a small plush (not for under 3)
